

SHOOTS HUSBAND WHO ATTACKS HIM

Unlucky Albert Winfrey's
Crowning Achievement.

Owen Clark Finds Winfrey Calling
On Mrs. Clark and Shoots at Him—Is Killed.

LOOKING FOR ANOTHER MAN.

Unlucky Albert Winfrey, a railroad man, shot and killed Owen Clark, a farmer, on the farm of Mrs. Allie Schaeffer, five miles from the city on the Cairo road, last night shortly after supper. The shooting was the result of jealousy on the part of Clark, Winfrey alleges, and he shot in self-defense. Winfrey had called on Clark's wife by invitation, and was seated by the fire when Clark burst into the room with revolver and stick and attacked Winfrey. The latter tried to escape but Clark pursued him into the yard where the shooting was done. Two shots were fired, one taking effect in the breast coming out the back and the other in the head. Winfrey then drove to Paducah and surrendered to Police Lieutenant Tom Potter.

Winfrey was held to the grand jury without bail this morning.

Mrs. Owen Clark was formerly a sweetheart of Winfrey. Her maiden name was Flora Clements, and six years ago she married in Metropolis, Winfrey attending the wedding supper. Two weeks ago she separated from her husband and left the Hook farm, where he works, going to her mother's, Mrs. Allie Schaeffer. The husband tried to effect a reconciliation but to no avail. Last night he called to pursue his efforts to secure his wife to return, and found Winfrey. From statements made by witnesses Clark had evidently prepared for Winfrey, as he was supplied with a stick and revolver, and had them ready for use on bursting into the room.

"Yes, I have been laying for you and I'm going to kill you," is the statement Clark is alleged to have made as he entered the room. Winfrey had driven to the Schaeffer farm only a few minutes before and had just seated himself before the fire when the husband came into the room. Mrs. Clark was replenishing the fire.

Winfrey jumped up and Clark fired once, the bullet flying wide of its mark. Winfrey ran into an adjoining room, Clark pursuing him, and striking wildly with his stick. Mrs. Schaeffer and children were in the room which leads to the porch. Winfrey gained the porch and in attempting to jump off was struck again by Clark and knocked to the ground. His clothes are covered with mud.

The fugitive arose quickly and Clark is alleged to have yelled "Jump that fence you ———; I'm going to kill you."

"Well, you have got to do it," is the reply Winfrey says he made, and with that pulled his 45 caliber Colt revolver and fired.

The first shot struck Clark in the breast and he cried out that he was wounded. Winfrey thought it a hoax and fired the second time, the bullet striking the man's head and tearing a large hole in the side and scattering the man's brains. A third shot penetrated his back, as Clark turned and fell.

Securing his horse and buggy Winfrey drove hastily to the city, stabled the animal at Iseman's stable, Second and Washington streets, surrendered his revolver to Tony Iseman, and presented himself before Police Lieutenant Tom Potter, pleading self-defense.

Albert Winfrey is a Paducah boy, born and raised in this city. He is the son of John Winfrey, a well-known steamboatman, and is 27 years old and married. He had just returned to Paducah to work for the Illinois Central as switchman, and yesterday received a $5 fine for breach of peace committed several months ago.

Owen Clark is a farmer well-known in Paducah. He was 35 years old and married his wife six years ago at Metropolis, Ill. He resided on the Hook farm on the Cairo road and always bore a good reputation among his friends and neighbors.

see her last night, they having been sweethearts before she married. Coroner Frank Baker was notified of the killing immediately and with County Attorney Alben Harkley went to the scene.

The coroner decided that Clark met death from bullet wounds inflicted by a pistol in the hands of Albert Winfrey. Coroner Frank Baker recommended a warrant for murder which was issued last night, the prisoner being held over to the grand jury without bail. He was taken from the city hall to the county jail after the issuance of the warrant.

Seeking Another Man.

Driven to desperation by an insane jealousy Owen Clark, who was last night killed by Albert Winfrey, forced Dawson E. Burch, a young machinist, to resign from a good position and leave Paducah, and those acquainted with Clark and his condition for the past several weeks, have no doubt of Albert Winfrey shooting in self-defense when he killed Clark.

Clark intended killing Dawson Burch, and only a few hours before the tragedy which cost him his life, was seeking for young Burch to kill him, and was fully prepared to execute his intentions. It was not the first time he had looked for the young man, and it was all because Burch had danced with his wife once on the night of November 28 at the boilermaker's hall given at Red Men's hall. He went directly from the residence of William Burch, an uncle of the young machinist, to his home, and it was the same pistol with which he intended shooting Burch that he fired at Winfrey without effect.

On the night of November 28 Clark's wife attended the ball given by the Illinois Central boilermakers. Dawson E. Burch was also in attendance and met Mrs. Clark. He danced once and soon forgot the incident. In some way the husband learned of it and immediately sought for the young man, Burch being ignorant that his name had in any way been connected with Clark and his domestic troubles.

"I am looking for Dawson E. Burch, your nephew, and when I find him I will kill him on sight," was the declaration Clark made to me over a week ago," Engineer W. O. Burch, of 1111 Monroe street, stated. "I saw that he was greatly worked up over something, and drew him out."

"He danced with my wife and caused us to be separated," Clark further declared, "and I am determined to kill him."

"I saw he meant trouble and tried to show him he was laboring under the wrong impression; but he was obstinate. I went to my nephew, who was working for the Illinois Central and informed him of his danger. He'd forgotten all about the dance and was greatly surprised. When Clark threatened again and made repeated visits in search of the boy, he went to Louisville and is now there."

"Yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock I returned from hunting and met Clark at my gate. He had a long pistol in his buggy and was excited. He had been to my mother's residence a short distance west of me, but did not find Dawson there. He came to my house thinking probably he would find him there. I asked him what he wanted and, exhibiting the pistol, he replied, 'The life of my nephew. I told him that he had left the city and Clark drove off.'"

Engineer Burch was well acquainted with Clark and also knows his wife. He did not know that Winfrey had killed Clark and when told of it this morning was greatly surprised. He believes that Winfrey shot in self-defense and if necessary is willing to testify as to Clark's actions relative to his nephew.

Winfrey's Statement.

"The pistol is mine, and I secured it last summer from an Indian doctor," Winfrey stated. "The report that I shot three times is erroneous, as I fired but twice. I presume the bullet which penetrated the breast went through, making a wound in the back which was supposed to be from a third shot."

"Mrs. Clark was a former sweetheart of mine."

INSURANCE MEN WRITE POLICIES

Fear No Repetition of Outbreak at Princeton

Another Similar Occurrence Would Place Paducah in Predicament of Other Towns.

LOCAL MEN GET PROTECTION

While on the surface of the insurance business in Paducah there has been a calm, in reality, this field has been carefully canvassed by the insurance companies, which write policies on tobacco. The verdict of these investigations has been to continue the calm, for it has been decided that for the present at least, Paducah is safe from the probability of an occurrence similar to the one in Princeton.

With the exception of one or two isolated instances, there has been no cancellation of policies on tobacco in Paducah. And as for wholesale cancellation in Paducah, it is not anticipated. The local insurance agencies reflect the confidence of their home offices. They have looked over the situation, both in the city and in the adjacent counties, and have reported to their companies opinions similar to the ones reported by the special agents.

In their opinion, one or two more occurrences similar to the one in Princeton, would paralyze the tobacco industry in western Kentucky and Western Tennessee. Tobacco handlers have large risks under ordinary circumstances, but the probability of incendiary risks, would compel all insurance companies to withdraw their business. One result of the cancellation of policies in Mayfield, Princeton, Hopkinsville, Guthrie, Trenton, Eddyville, Kuttawa, Madison and other points, has been the applications of tobacco handlers in those towns to Paducah insurance agencies to write policies for them, but obviously Paducah agencies cannot write where their local agencies refuse. Paducah agencies are writing all the business brought to them on tobacco by local concerns.

SEWER PROGRESS IS SATISFACTORY

About One-Seventh of Total Length Has Been Laid

Should Reach High School by January 1 and Complete System by May.

NEED MORE MEN IN TRENCHES.

Progress is rapid on the new sewer in district No. 2 and by January 1, if the weather remains good, the brick main should be extended out Kentucky avenue past Fourteenth street, so that the Washington school building may be connected.

At present most of the work is being devoted to the storm water overflow system. Crews of men are working in the trenches and pipe lines on Twelfth, Jackson and Adams streets; the 24-inch brick main on Tennessee street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and the 48-inch brick sewer in the Plunkett property.

The brick masons will work back toward Kentucky avenue and then take the sanitary sewer out as far as Sixteenth street, and then north to Trimble street. The sanitary system will connect with the trunk sewer in district No. 1.

There are at present about 130 men, including skilled and unskilled laborers, and brick masons on the work. The contractors are putting on all the men they can find, and would like to employ more. Several cases caused by heavy rains have retarded the contractors, but the speed considering these drawbacks, is as much as the engineering department expected.

The whole system should be completed by May 1, if the conditions continue favorable. When freezing weather comes the cement for bricks cannot be used and the work on the brick sewers must cease temporarily. About one mile, a little more than one-seventh of the total length of the sewer has been laid.

About Moonshiners.

The schemes of moonshiners whereby to evade the law are as fruitful as the imagination of the offenders. A novel arrangement whereby the government has been defrauded of its revenues for several years has been disclosed in the federal court in Paris. Captain Preston, an old soldier for many years has been running an old still in the mountains. His gang consists of himself, his family and eight or ten neighbors. The revenue officers have known all the time that there was a big still in operation near Paris. They had examined Captain Preston's house but never had been able to find anything suspicious in it, but a modern distillery had been run there for many years. The house was built especially to conceal the fact that whisky was being distilled in violation of the law. The apparatus was in the middle of the kitchen near the smoke house. A brick flue connected the room with a smoke stack. A machine in smoke house contains two boilers into which steam is turned from the main boilers in the kitchen. Another piece of machinery, a water condenser, looks like the worm of a distillery. It is a coil of pipe in a large barrel of ice water. When the river water has been heated to 250 degrees, it is turned through the condenser and cooled before being cooled with ice. People living in Paris often get distilled water from Capt. Preston for household use. When not filtering any hotting water, however, the machine had been making the finest whisky ever drunk in these diggings. "Moonshiner's Daughter" at The Kentucky tomorrow night.

Twenty Years Ago.

The night after the first performance of "Sergeant Brue," Frank Daniels' very popular musical piece, a friend remarked to the comedian:

"Frank, I saw you twenty years ago, and you were just the same then as you were tonight."

Daniels got up from his chair, did his funny little strut and winked his eyebrows. The friend threw back his head and roared.

"There you are," said Daniels, dropping quietly back into his seat. "You're laughing just the same as you did twenty years ago."

The friend stared: "That's right—I never thought of that before."

"Well, I did," was the reply, "and just as long as audiences keep laughing at my strut and wink, I'll keep on strutting and winking."

SCHMITZ AND RUEF ASK DELAY

Say They Want Subpoenas Issued for Members of Grand Jury.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—When the motion of Mayor Schmitz and Abraham Ruef to quash the indictments against them for extortion on the ground of "prejudice and bias" came up for hearing in Judge Duane's court today the attorneys for the accused men asked for further time on the ground that subpoenas are to be issued for members of the grand jury.

Though the defendants interposed a joint motion, their lawyers explicitly stated that this does not mean a joined issue or a single trial. The proceedings in Judge Duane's court today were purely perfunctory.

Some men are living entirely on the reputation that their grandfather established.

CHILDREN'S
Favorite tonic is White's Cream Vermifuge, the cure for worms and all children's diseases. It not only kills the worms, but removes the mucus and slime in which they build their lairs. Its action on the child is mild and leaves him in a healthy condition. Joe Daniels, Sumner, Tenn., says that he gave one of his children White's Cream Vermifuge when the doctor thought it had colic, and from the first dose the child passed 23 worms.

CLERGYMAN SHOT BY DAUGHTER

Girl Arrested and Father Taken to Hospital in Dying Condition.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—Mary McAntee, 26 years old, living at 1714 South Fifteenth street, shot her father, Rev. John McAntee, in the head with a revolver at the pastoral residence late this afternoon. The victim is in St. Agnes' hospital in a dying condition and the young woman is under arrest.

The police say they have evidence that a quarrel preceded the tragedy and intimate that the young woman intervened to protect her mother from violence. The young woman refuses to make any statement and the members of the family are equally reticent. Rev. McAntee is well known in Lutheran circles, and the shooting caused a sensation among members of his congregation.

Posse of Citizens Threw Him Into an Ice Stream.

Lyons, Neb., Dec. 12.—A posse of citizens this morning captured Sewell Sampson, a wife beater and deserter, who ran away with Mrs. Joseph Manning a year ago, stripped him of all his clothing, gave him 20 lashes on the bare back and then threw him, naked, shivering and bleeding into the icy Logan river. When he clambered out he was told that if he did not leave Lyons within 10 minutes he would be treated to a coat of tar and feathers and ridden out of town on a fence rail.

New York, Dec. 12.—George Burnham, Jr., vice president and general counsel of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company today was convicted of larceny of $7,500 of the company's funds. The prosecution and conviction of Burnham was the outgrowth of an investigation of insurance companies of this state by the legislative committee a year ago. Two other officers of the company, Fred A. Burnham, president, and George D. Ethridge, vice president, were indicted at the same time as the man convicted today.

Her Liver.

A Liverpool lady had given her butcher her daily order over the telephone, and later in the day decided to change it a little and countermand an order she had given for some liver.

Hinking up her butcher she said: "You remember that I gave you an order for a pound of liver a while ago?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Well, I find that I do not need it, and you need not send it."

Before she could put down the receiver she heard the butcher say to some one in the shop: "Take out Mrs. Blank's liver. She says she can get along without it."—Tribune.

NEW ACT FORGIVES TRANSGRESSIONS

Demurrer of Standard Oil to Indictment

Insist That Elkins Law Is Repealed By New Rate Law Passed By Congress.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S VIEW.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 12.—The fight of the Standard Oil company against the ten indictments against the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which were returned August 29, was begun today in the United States district court before Judge Landis. The indictments contain 6,428 counts, and the Standard Oil company has entered a demurrer. It is upon the latter that the proceedings of today were based.

The attorneys for the Standard Oil company contended, in support of their demurrer, that section 10 of the rate law passed by congress, June 29, repeals the Elkins law under which the government is bringing the action against the company, and that the indictments are not sufficiently specific, because they do not comprehend all of the elements in the case.

The contention that the Elkins law is repealed by the rate law, and that the offenses alleged can not, therefore, be punished under the former act, was contradicted by United States District Attorney Sims who declared that section 13 of the revised statutes covers the case, in that it states that the repeal of an old statute does not condone prior offenses unless the repealing act so specifies in particular.

A $30,000 Toothpick.

Charles M. Schwab was in a romantic mood the other night while conversing with several friends in the corridor of the Waldorf-Astoria. He pulled a toothpick from the pocket of his waistcoat and after glancing at it thoughtfully, said: "Do you know that I never look at a toothpick without recalling the time when an acquaintance of mine made a large sum of money—$30,000—and it was all due to a common little hotel toothpick. It was over three years ago when my friend was dining at his hotel, and after he had left the restaurant he directed his steps toward Broadway. He had walked scarcely a block when his tooth began to ache. A particle of food had wedged firmly between two of his teeth, and finding that he was without a toothpick he started back to the hotel to get one. When leaving the hotel the second time he overheard John W. Gates remark to a friend that he felt positive Steel common would be selling at 10 before the end of the summer. Now, my friend was not well posted on the steel market, but knowing that it was Gates who made the remark and also the great weight his word carried in such matters, he decided to take advantage of the tip and it did not take him long to place his order with a broker to sell 1,000 shares of steel at 12. Well, everybody knows what steel did in the summer of 1904, going down below 9, but my friend ordered his trade to be closed around 10, and he cleaned up a profit of $30,000, which he never would have made had it not been for the little toothpick."—New York Letter.

MAN NOT BORN TO READ.

Naturally Long Sighted and Eyes Not Adapted to Close Work.

Many persons when they see the multiplication of bespectacled school children are apt to conclude that the eyes of the race are degenerating, says the New York Times. Civilization, it is said, is responsible for the evil. We read too much, we use our eyes in ways that are "contrary to the order of nature" and we suffer the penalty. Did not Andrew Lang declare some time ago that "man was not born to read?"

It is reassuring to learn from Dr. C. W. Saleeby, the Spencerian Interpreter and popular English writer on scientific and philosophical subjects that the talk of eye degeneration is "undiluted nonsense." It is not, he earnestly explains, a question of function, but of a radical change of function, of necessary adaptation to the needs of a different environment. It is literally true that "man was not born to read." The eye of the "natural" or uncivilized man is "focused upon eternity"—let the symbolists note this fact.

The original man is long-sighted. "The eye which we have inherited from our ancestors," says Dr. Saleeby, "is one which is used without effort at long range, merely containing within it an apparatus enabling it at the cost of nervous and muscular effort to be used at short range." But every known civilization involves reading and writing—that is, the constant use of the eye at short distances—hence the need of appropriate glasses.

Dr. Saleeby admits that it would be an advantage to humanity, as it now is, to have an eye naturally focused upon near subjects, but, he adds: "If one started to make a list of the bodily characters of man which the amazing development of his intelligence has rendered more or less appropriate to his needs than originally one would require a volume."

High Price for a Cent.

A specimen of the first cent struck in the United States mint in 1793, with thirteen links in a circle on the reverse, was sold for $82 yesterday at the end of a two days' sale of coins held at the Hotel Bartholdi by Geoffrey C. Adams. Daniel R. Kennedy mentioned them off.

Some of the prices exceeded any ever paid before. Two half cents, struck in 1836 and 1852, brought $42.50 and $35 respectively. Of the cents struck in 1719 fifty-six varieties were disposed of, two minor varieties bringing $30 each. A flying eagle cent of 1856 brought $12. Six pattern trade dollars issued in 1873, brought $24. Much interest was shown by those present in the tokens that at one time passed for money in this country. One showing the head of Andrew Jackson on one side and the inscription, "The Bank Must Perish," on the other, which passed for a cent during President Jackson's administration in the late 30's, brought $22.50.

Several fine colonial pieces of this country were sold. An Annapolis shilling brought $4. A pine tree shilling, struck in Massachusetts in 1652, sold for $15, while a threepence of the same coinage brought $4.60. A twopence "Rosa Americana," struck in England in 1722 for use in this country, sold for $11, and a copy of the New York cents, which during the latter part of the eighteenth century were coined at a private mint in Newburg, brought $3.70.—N. Daily Thought.

Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculation

its powers of endurance.—Carlyle.

CHICKENS COME HOME.

No act of lawlessness ever was committed in any community without the most serious harm resulting to the whole community. That this is axiomatic the farmers of Caldwell county are brought to a full realization in a manner that must make them more than sincere in their denunciation of the outrages perpetrated by an armed mob, which destroyed the two big warehouses at Princeton two weeks ago. The local banks have called in loans aggregating $100,000. These loans, presumably range from $100 to $1,000 and reach into every section of the county. Possibly more than 100 people are affected directly.

Some of those people have loaned out money to neighbors. They will be forced to call in those loans. Some of them have money in the Princeton banks, so those institutions will catch it coming and going. Scarcely a freeholder in Caldwell county will escape

the financial dragnet which is drawing every available dollar of cash into the banks, themselves seriously embarrassed, because their highest customers, the two warehouses, are not doing business with them any more.

Some farmers are compelled to sell their tobacco in a hurry and they must haul it many miles. They can't borrow a cent on it, because it may be burned. It will be a sorry Christmas for Caldwell county. Perhaps,

the whole community did not sin;

but the whole community is suffering,

and it is beyond doubt, that some of the men who helped burn the warehouses, have sufficient cause already to regret their conduct. If it is necessary that a community suffer, to remedy conditions which make possible such outrages, then we only trust that Caldwell county may escape as lightly as is consistent with the ends of Providence.

There is a lesson for ambitious wives in the story of the fall of the house of Storer. Many a woman, who considers herself ambitious and who undertakes to assume the man's part in the family public relations, courts inevitable disaster. There have been women who have made their mark in diplomacy. There are more women who are responsible for their husbands' success in life, but who will never be known. The latter play the woman's part in the husband's career, and therefore succeed. The women, who conspicuously succeeded,

had special training, on account of necessity and environment, and this special training took the form of patience. Too often men and women assume the belief that success

what the world thinks of one, and attempt to foster this success

telling the world their immature views. In these instances the world they are talking and nothing more. It is a mistake to which women are mostly addicted, because they are not thrown against an indifferent public to be knocked into shape, as a man is before he is exalted. It seems that Mrs. Storer's attainments were principally those of loquacity.

She probably is a brilliant woman,
with all a woman's love and capacity for intrigue, and had she played the woman's part and allowed her husband to shine in his own sphere, the international fame of the Storer family might not have attained its zenith so rapidly, but it would have been of a more stable character. Bellamy Storer is forever banished from public life. Perhaps, he knows why, and we will accord to him this virtue,
he gallantly stands by his wife.

All kinds of propositions come to the hands of such organizations as the Paducah Commercial club and these are carefully considered, the impracticable and questionable ones being courteously turned down. Persons seeking locations for factories naturally look to Commercial clubs for their information, and meritorious propositions frequently are laid before the directors. One proposition mentioned in The Sun of yesterday, a bottle and flask works, bears on the face of its promises for Paducah, and investigation on the part of a committee of business men corroborates the good impression made at the beginning. The parties behind the plan are reputable and experienced and they conceal nothing from the local people. Their names are not mentioned in print simply because commercial organizations in other cities take The Sun to keep in touch with affairs in Paducah, and might seek to outfit the glass promoters away from us. A committee is calling on the business men endeavoring to interest them in the project. It would bring a large number of high salaried skilled workmen to the city, pour $2,500 weekly into the channels of local retail trade, and increase the population and value of property of the city. If the project is all that is claimed for it, and that can be easily ascertained, it merits the support of
as many local capitalists as are needed to put it through.

The nation is being treated to no-
other exhibition of senatorial dignity.
Senatorial dignity is different from the common sort of dignity with which we are acquainted at home and in the dictionary. In that it is not a state, but a felix. Senatorial dignity is not a thing to be observed in the pose of its members, nor the deliberation of the body, but a thing to be revered by the executive. Its principal function is to form an excuse for holding up presidential incompetence, while the leaders dicker for their support, and treaties, until it is too late to ratify them at the particular session. Just now the senate is holding up the appointment of Mr. Bonaparte as attorney general, because he made a speech a few years back; and Mr. Moody to the supreme court, because of Mr. Bonaparte; and Mr. Cortelyou to be secretary of the treasury, because the senate is not sure of his fitness. Incidentally we learn that the president sent his appointments over before the senate told him it was ready. To discipline the president the Republican senators are allowing the minority to talk its head off about the executive department. Presently the appointments will all be ratified.

SUSCEPTIBLE EDITOR.
Necessity is the mother of invention. The limit was certainly reached Monday afternoon when the Messenger came out. About the time forms were made up and ready to go on the press, a gentle voice was heard from the central office saying as usual
"there would be no power that afternoon."

It then became necessary to devise ways and means by which to get out the paper. For the Messenger to fail to come out brings sorrow to almost every home in the city.

Finally it was decided to run the big press, with an ice cream freezing machine. The devil and every other available force in the office, was pressed into service, when the ice cream freezer was started and after an hour's hard work, enough papers were run off to supply the city circulation.

To say the editor was mad, does not half express it. He sat down and wrote an article scoring everything connected with the plant, from Manager John Landrum to the I. C. railroad. This he determined to publish in today's paper. But this morning he met Manager Landrum, who seemed to be in good humor, approached the editor, told him his necktie and said many nice things about him and the Messenger and we parted. So the editor returned to his office, tore up the article and now all is calm and serene.—Mayfield Messenger.

"Not a truth to art nr science has been given,
But brows have ached for it, and
souls toiled and striven,
And many have striven, and many have failed,
And many died, slain by the truth
they assailed."

The Osteopathic science has been assailed as vigorously as ever any new truth that has been offered to the world, but today it is rapidly coming into its own, as the people become better acquainted with it—know it.

Osteopathy is an evolution of the science of treating disease. It went back to the first principles in nature for its foundation, and by taking a step backward it has made a great stride forward.

It is merely a common sense treatment; a method of manipulation to restore the normal conditions of nerve control and blood supply to every organ of the body by removing the physical obstruction, or stimulating, or preventing functional activities, as the condition may require.

The success I have had in Paducah in treating rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, malaria conditions, such as the tired-out, run-down feeling, sick, heavy headaches, and stomach disorders are but a repetition of the successes of the science everywhere.

Come to see me at any time, and let me tell you of Paducah people you know well who will vouch to benefits received from the treatment.
That's the best recommendation I can give you.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH

AVOID ALUM

Vigorous Health is the most Dependable Wealth
It reaps a steady harvest.
Alum in food will change Health's ruddy glow into pinched paleness by drying up the rich red blood, which nature provides.
You take alum into your food by the use of so called cheap Powders in which alum is used as a cheapening substitute for pure Cream of Tartar. There is only one sure way to guard your health against alum and its injurious effects—Buy only an absolutely pure Grape Cream of Tartar Baking Powder—buy by the name—

trustees of the First Methodist church, in which he was to have spoken, heard it reported that he swore at some one during his lecture in Chicago, they wrote him asking him to promise not to swear during his talk here. Senator Tillman replied that he didn't know anything about Bellaire and that the town would have to take its chances with him, just as he would have to do with the town.

Weak Lungs

NEED VINOL

its cod liver oil elements heal and strengthen the lungs

Many people inherit weak lungs which are likely to be attacked by consumption. So also are lungs weakened by disease or by a stubborn hacking cough.

No matter what the cause Vinol strengthens weak lungs and gives one the power to throw off wasting diseases. The reason that Vinol has such power to heal and strengthen is because it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the curative, medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

So sure are we of what Vinol will do that we ask every person in Paducah suffering from weak lungs, stubborn hacking coughs or any wasting disease to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. W. H. McPherson, Druggist.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Paducah, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Piles Are Caused by Some Physics

Physics—usually salts, tablets and pills—cause piles more often than any other one cause. Such remedies produce gripping, which is the direct cause of piles.

A proper physic will not cause gripping, but will produce an easy and satisfying bowel action.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

instead of weakening the intestinal organs, as nearly all other physics do, gives them such strength that they are able to voluntarily perform their functions. In cases of constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, weak stomach, and all other bowel and stomach disorders, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gives immediate and permanent relief.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. Free sample bottle will be sent upon request to those who have never tried it.

SEPARATION CAUSES SERIOUS SHOCKS TO FRANCE.

Expulsion of Papal Nunciature at Paris Indicates Government's Attitude.

Rome, Dec. 12.—Great excitement prevails at the vatican because of actual situation in France and news from there is eagerly awaited. The vatican declines all responsibility for what might happen in France.

It is believed here that the coming conflict may prove more serious than those which occurred at the time of taking the inventories and it is suggested if worship is held privately, the faithful may have to be supplied with tickets to attend mass and other religious ceremonies.

The expulsion from France of Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the papal nunciature at Paris, who has represented at the vatican there since the recall of the Nuncio, according to the vatican officials is evident proof that the French government wishes not only to strike at the church as a religious institution but to represent it as an enemy of the republic and allied with the republic's foes.

Champagne Going Up.

New York, Dec. 12.—Hereafter American consumers of French champagne will have to pay more for their pints and quarts, for, according to a report from Consul John C. Covert, at Lyons, France, the wine growers have entered into a combination to raise prices, or what is practically a "trust" in the trade.

M. Palazi, of the department of L. Herault, is said in the report to be at the head of the combination and represents the growers who turn out 15,000,000 hectoliters yearly, a hectoliter equalling about twenty-five gallons. The cost of producing a quart of wine is estimated at about four-fifths of a cent, but the combination purposes advancing the price to about 3 cents.

Gale Sweeps Frisco.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—A south-east gale, sweeping along the coast at a registered velocity of forty-eight miles an hour, today resulted in the death of one man in San Francisco and in the severe injury of others. Shipping in the harbor was damaged considerably, and in all quarters of the city tottering walls were hurled to the ground, blockading streets and interrupting traffic. Owing to the danger from falling walls street car service was totally suspended.

Trial of Train Wreckers.

Petersburg, Ind., Dec. 12.—The trials of William Aubrey and Shelly Irwin, charged with murder in the first degree by train wrecking, was commenced today. The men claim they are not the men who wrecked the train the night of July 12, in which three trainmen lost their lives and eighteen cars and an engine were demolished.

Shot by Unknown Negro.

Chattanooga, Dec. 12.—Marshall Harvey, a Queen and Crescent watchman, was shot and probably fatally wounded by an unknown negro in the railroad yards this morning. A posse of officers with bloodhounds is on the trail of the negro.

"There goes a man with brains," said the butcher.
"Is he a statesman?"
"Not that I know of."
"An author?"
"I don't believe so."
"An inventor?"
"Not that I ever heard."
"Who is he?"
"I don't know."
Then how do you know he has brains?
"I just sold him some. How many pounds of liver did you say?"—Houston Post.

Mother Has Violent Temper.

Dayton, O., Dec. 12.—Collins and Fayne Gilman, were arraigned in Magistrate Wagner's court today, and pleaded not guilty to the charge of aiding and abetting the murder of their sister, Dona. They will be given a preliminary hearing Friday. Collins was returned to jail, while his sister Fayne was given liberty on her recognizance by agreement of attorneys and the court. Nothing developed at the arraignment which would indicate what evidence the detectives have against the accused. They say they have good evidence, but decline to discuss the details. Mrs. Kate Gilman, who is accused of killing her daughter, is said to have an almost ungovernable temper.

GRAND JURY

EXPECTED TO MAKE INTERESTING REPORT SATURDAY.

Attendance at the Mass Meeting Last Night Was Small—Two Committees Heard.

Only two wards made reports at the mass meeting of citizens who are interested in the moral cleansing of the city, at the city hall last night. Less than an hundred persons were present, but several strong speeches were made and the movement has far from died out.

Colonel Joe Potter was elected chairman for the evening. Messrs. Young Taylor and J. C. Jones, of the Fourth and Third wards, respectively, reported that their ward committees had organized but were not ready to report on the work accomplished.

George O. McBroom, Gus Singleton, C. A. Murrell, J. J. Howell, C. C. Duval, Young Taylor, J. C. Jones, S. A. Hill, and Chairman Potter addressed the meeting briefly, reiterating their approval of the movement and offering their services in any work necessary to accomplish a reform in moral conditions in the city.

The next meeting at the city hall of all the committees will be held the first Tuesday evening in January. Meanwhile all committees were instructed in work in their individual wards. The committeemen from the First and Second wards promised something from the grand jury by Saturday night.

New Line for Yankee Girls.

Mrs. Robert McCormick, wife of the American ambassador at Paris, has observed during her three years' stay in that country that many American girls drift into the city each year to study art, music or the drama, many of them on little or nothing a year. She has suggested that the Paris dressmakers and milliners use them as models to drape their gowns and try on their hats. Let them use the broad-shouldered western girls she says, and they will be much more certain that their gowns will be much more easily sold to visiting Americans, as many gowns that are dreams of beauty on trig little French women make frights of the athletic American women. While the milliners and dressmakers are aided, the impecunious young woman finds a new employment.

De Catinat had arranged that the American should remain with his friend Major de Brissac, as the time had come round for his own second turn of guard. He had hardly stationed himself in the corridor when he was astonished to see the king, without escort or attendants, walking swiftly down the passage. His delicate face was disfigured with anger, and his mouth was set grimly, like that of a man who had taken a momentous resolution.

"Officer of the guard," said he shortly.

"Yes, sire."

"I wish your assistance."

"Is there a subaltern here?"

"Lieutenant de la Tronouille is at the side guard."

"Very well. You will place him in command. You will yourself go to the apartment of M. de Vivonne. If he is not there you must go and seek him. Wherever he is, you must find him within the hour."

"Yes, sire."

"You will give him an order from me. At 6 o'clock he is to be in his carriage at the east gate of the palace. His sister, Mlle. de Montepan, will await him there, and he is charged by me to drive her to the chateau of Petit Honz. You will tell him that he is answerable to me for her arrival there."

"Yes, sire," the Catinat raised his sword in salute and started upon his mission.

The king passed on down the corridor and opened a door which led him into a magnificent anteroom, all one blaze of mirrors and gold, furnished to a marvel with the most delicate ebony and silver suit, on a deep red carpet of Abbeys, as soft and yielding as the moss of a forest.

Without knocking, he opened the door farther and passed on into the lady's boudoir.

It was a large and lofty room, very different from that from which he had spoken to you so? How could it be, that some blight may come upon this unhappy tongue? I, who have had nothing but good from you! I to insult you, who are the author of all my happiness! Oh, sire, forgive me, forgive me; for my sake forgive me!"

Louis was by nature a kind-hearted man. His feelings were touched, and his pride also was flattered by the eloquence of this beautiful and haughty woman. His face softened somewhat in his expression as he glanced at her, but he shook his head, and his voice was as firm as ever as he answered.

"It is useless, madame," said he. "I have thought this matter over for a long time, and your madness today has only hurried what must in any case have taken place. You must leave the palace."

"I will leave the palace. Say only that you forgive me. Oh, sire, I cannot bear your anger. It crushes me down. I am not strong enough. It is not banishment, it is death to which you sentence me. Think of our long years of love, sire, and say that you forgive me. Oh, you will not give your anger up for nothing? My God, he weeps! Oh, I am saved!"

"No, no, madame," cried the king, dashing his hand across his eyes. "You see the weakness of the man, but you shall also see the firmness of the king. As to your insults today, I forgive them, but if that will make you more happy in your retirement. But a time has come when it is necessary to review our past life and to prepare for that which is to come."

"Ah, sire, you pain me. You are not yet in the prime of your years, and you speak as if old age were upon you. In a score of years from now it may be time for folks to say that age has made a change in your life."

The king winced. "Who say so?" he cried angrily.

"Oh, sire, it slipped from me unawares. Think no more of it. Nobody says so. Nobody."

"You are hiding something from me. Who is it who says this?"

"Oh, sire, it was but foolish court gossip, all unworthy of your attention. To me, sire, you are as pleasing and as gracious as when you first won the heart of Mlle. Tonnay-Charente."

The king smiled as he looked at the beautiful woman before him.

"In very truth," said he, "I can say that there has been no such great change in Mlle. Tonnay-Charente either. But still it is best that we should part, madame."

"You have but to name the place, sire—Petit Honz, Chazay or my own convent of St. Joseph in the Faubourg St. Germain. What matter where the flower withers when once the sun has forever turned from it? At least the past is my own, and I shall live in the remembrance of the days when none had come between us and when your sweet love was all my own. He happy, sire, be happy, and think no more of what I said about the foolish gossip of the court. Your life lies in the future. Mine is in the past. Adieu, dear sire, adieu!" She threw forward her arms, her eyes dimmed over, and she would have fallen had Louis not sprung forward and caught her in his arms. Her beautiful head drooped upon his shoulder, her breath was warm upon his cheek, and the subtle scent of her hair was in his nostrils. Her broad white throat was thrown back, her eyes almost closed, her lips just parted enough to show the line of pearly teeth, her beautiful face not three inches from his own. And then suddenly the eyelids opened, and the great blue eyes looked up at him forlunkly, appealingly, half deprecating, half challenging, her whole soul in a glance. Did he move? Or was it she? Who could tell? But their lips had met in a long kiss and then in another, and plans and resolutions were strewn away from Louis like autumn leaves in the west wind.

"Then I am not to go? You would not have the heart to send me away, would you?"

"No, no; but you must not annoy me, madame."

"I had rather die than cause you an instant of grief. Oh, sire, I have seen so little of you lately! And I love you so! It has haunted me. And then that dreadful woman!"

"Who, then?"

"Oh, I must not speak against her. I will be true to your sake even to her, the widow of old Sauran."

"Yes, yes, you must be civil. I cannot have any unpleasantness."

"But you will stay with me, sire?" Her simple arms coiled themselves round his neck. Then he held him for an instant at arm's length to feast his eyes upon his face, and then drew him once more toward her. "You will not leave me, dear sire. It is so long since you have been here."

"I will stay," said he.

"And that carriage, dear sire, at the east door?"

"I have been very harsh with you, madame. You will forgive me. Have you paper and pen, that I may command the order?"

"They are here, sire, upon the side table. I have also a note which, if I may leave you forever. His eyes flashed and his small upright figure seemed to swell in the violence of his indignation, while she leaned away from him, one hand across her eyes.

"Oh, I have been wicked!" she cried.

"I know it. I know it! How could I

Senator Burrows Scores The Mormon Church.

Heed Smoot Case Does Not Rest on His Practices but His Identity With Polygamy.

HIERARCHY IS ALL POWERFUL.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The question of Senator Smoot's right to his seat as United States senator from Utah was discussed by Burrows in the senate for more than three hours.

Senator Burrows said there had been no proof submitted to sustain the allegation that Mr. Smoot is a polygamist. The recommendation of the committee on privileges and elections is not based on such charge.

Mr. Burrows' impeachment was based entirely upon the connection of Mr. Smoot with the governing body of the church, consisting of the presidency and the twelve apostles. He referred to this body as a "hierarchy," and said: "The power exercised by this is far-reaching and commanding, holding in its grasp practically the entire membership of the organization and through it the domination of the state by arrogating to itself and inculcating the belief in its followers that they are endowed with supernatural powers as prophets, seers, and revelators—and specially commissioned by the Almighty to dominate the affairs of this world, and that resistance to the will of this theocracy is rebellion against God. The testimony fully sustains the allegation that the Mormon priesthood is vested with supreme authority in all things temporal and spiritual; and that the first presidency and the twelve apostles are supreme in the exercise in transmission of the mandates of this authority."

Mormon Hierarchy Dominates. He said that since the admission of Utah into the Union the people of the state have been, if possible, more completely under the domination of the Mormon hierarchy than during the long years of their territorial existence. The only office held by a non-Mormon under the state government during the ten years of its existence, as an elective officer has been the attorney general.

Shows Proof of Polygamy. He said that Mr. Smoot's membership in the church governing body which inculcates a belief in polygamy, is conceded. On that point he said: "The evidence upon this point is so complete and overwhelming as to leave no doubt as to the truth of the allegation. The proof is indubitable that in spite of the manifesto of 1890 issued by the head of the church, counselling the suspension of polygamy, it appears that a majority of the members of this hierarchy has continually and persistently lived in polygamy."

He spoke in this connection of the astonishment of the committee at the confession of President Smith and of the revelations of the fact that eight of the twelve apostles have plural wives. Senator Burrows concluded as follows:

"It is submitted that the senator, by becoming a member of and identifying himself with such organization and participating in its functions, has disqualified himself for membership in this body. An organization that fosters and encourages crime tramples upon all law, human and divine; practices polygamy and polygamies; degrades womanhood; debauches public morals; strikes at the Christian civilization of this age; undermines and shakes the foundations of human society and government; destroys the sanctity of the marriage relation; defiles the authority of the state and national government; registers an oath of hostility to the American nation and brings the name and fame of the good people of Utah into disrepute and shame and humiliation to the American people. I submit that such an organization is not entitled to have its representative in the senate of the United States, and I therefore ask the adoption of the resolution."

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An Interesting History of One of the Most Popular Household Remedies.

USED IN THE EARLY AGES.

From the dim dawn of antiquity, the peoples of the earth have utilized the twigs and leaves of the camphor tree as a potent factor in relieving and healing the many ills which the human flesh is heir to. In the early stages of civilization the benedictions used camphor in a crude form, and through centuries that have passed it has come down to succeeding ages, a priceless heritage. The natives of the far east anointed their bodies with this product as one of the first and most simple remedies. From time to time camphor has been combined with other chemical compounds and used for the treatment of both external and internal ailments, though its chief virtue is as an external preparation.

KNOWN TO OUR GRANDMOTHERS.

The simplest form, and that best known to all of us—that familiar friend and companion of our childhood, with which our grandmothers so affectionately caressed our pains and aches, is whiskey and camphor. The old camphor bottle revives in our fancy the happiest recollection of our childhood's home, when care was an undiscovered country and the world was a vast playground created for our own amusement.

DEVELOPED BY A SCOTCH PHYSICIAN.

It remained however, for a distinguished Scotch physician and chemist to develop the most effective medicinal combination, with camphor as a basis. While acting as Pathologist of the Royal Infirmary and stationed in the Indies, in the year 1870, this chemist had occasion to investigate, from a scientific viewpoint, the effect of a solution of kerosene steeped in sandal-wood twigs used by the natives of that country to counteract the ravages of a plague. When he returned to the city of Glasgow, Scotland, and while connected with the Andersonian College and the Royal Infirmary of Physicians of that city, he engaged in an extensive series of experiments along the line of the secret solution used by these natives.

PERFECTED IN THE UNITED STATES.

After years of toil, pursued in many countries and many climates, in the year 1892, when a citizen and resident of the United States of America, he perfected a solution of camphor and essential oils which he called PARACAMPH, and which is a revolution in the treatment of external injuries. Thus has the wisdom of the East combined with the progressiveness and activity of the West, giving to the world its greatest healing remedy.

We do not hesitate to guarantee Paracamp to cure Rheumatism, Swelling, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Throat Troubles, Eczema, Tetter and Itching or Bleeding Piles, because many of our customers report to us daily that they have been cured by its use and because we know Paracamp will do exactly what we claim for it. Paracamp is a clean, safe, household remedy which every family needs every day in the year. It is truly a First Aid to the Injured and if you have not used it try Paracamp to-day on our guarantee to return money if it fails to do what we claim for it.

BRITISH EDUCATION BILL DEAD

Cabinet decides to Reject Measure, Placing Blame on Lords.

London, Dec. 12.—An unexpected decision of the cabinet today to reject en bloc the amendment to the education bill made in the house of lords, which came as a complete surprise to most of the members of the house and which indicates that the nonconformist influence was too strong for the government to withstand, seals the fate of the bill. Any compromise is now regarded as hopeless; the bill certainly will be dropped, and a new bill will be introduced at the next session of parliament.

The decision places the responsibility of killing the bill on the house of lords. Minister of Education Birrell outlined in the house of commons the concessions the government was prepared to make, but they are too limited to form a basis of compromise.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR GILLETTE.

Mother of Man Convicted of Murder, In Court to Hear Sentence.

Herkimer, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Chester E. Gillette was today sentenced to die in the electric chair at Auburn prison during the week beginning Jan. 25. He will be taken to Auburn tomorrow. The youth, convicted of the murder of his discarded sweetheart, Grace Brown, showed no sign of emotion when in reply to the formal question as to whether he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

Big Game Reserve.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The government proposes to establish a big game reserve in the Indian Territory. The initial step was taken by the agricultural department today, when it requested the interior department to withdraw the land from allotment and have congress appropriate money to pay the Indians for the property. The reserve will be located in the southeastern corner of the Choctaw Nation, and contain 300,000 acres.

SEVERAL CHANGES AMONG LEGATIONS

J. W. Riddle Will Succeed Meyer in Russia.

Santa Claus Subject of Fraud Order and His Letters Go to Washington.

HIG GAME RESERVE PLANNED

Washington, Dec. 12.—John W. Riddle, of Minnesota, new minister to Roumania and Serbia, has been selected by President Roosevelt as ambassador of the United States to Russia, to succeed George Von L. Meyer, who has been appointed postmaster general.

An official announcement of this and various other diplomatic changes is expected soon, and probably tomorrow the president will send the list of names to the senate for confirmation.

Henry White, now ambassador at Rome, will be nominated as ambassador to France; Lloyd C. Griscom, ambassador to Brazil, will be transferred to Rome; Irving B. Dudley, now minister to Peru, will be made ambassador to Brazil, and be succeeded in Peru by Leslie Combs, present minister to Guatemala.

It is expected that William G. Fox, present head of the bureau of American republics, will be given the mission to Guatemala, succeeding Mr. Combs. John Barrett, present minister to Colombia, is to succeed Mr. Fox.

Mr. Riddle will be in a familiar field when he goes to St. Petersburg, as he was secretary of the American embassy there for two years and has wide acquaintance among Russian officials. One of the greatest advantages he has is his ability to speak Russian.

General Lawton's Son.

Manley Lawton, a son of the late General Lawton who was killed in the Philippines, will be appointed by the president a cadet at the United States Military Academy.

General Bell's Promotion.

General J. M. Lee, of the United States army, retires on January 2, and it is generally understood in military circles that Brigadier General Frankella Bell, a native of Kentucky, and at present chief of staff, will be promoted to the Major General rank which his retirement will create.

General Bell could have been promoted some time ago but stepped aside in order that his senior, General Leo, could receive the promotion and retire as a major general.

Fraud Order on Santa Claus.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Santa Claus has been barred from the mails. Break the news gently to the children, but the postoffice department has issued a fraud order against Santa Claus, and he will be unable this year to learn what many trusting and longing hearts want during the season of good cheer.

It has been the practice of many philanthropic persons to secure from the postoffice throughout the country some of the scrawling little mislives, and make the children's hearts glad by supplying many of the wants set forth. Postmasters receiving letters addressed to Santa Claus generally laid them aside, and patrons who could afford it would do a good turn by aiding the most deserving cases.

Now all letters so addressed must be forwarded to the dead letter office, where they will go through the formal process of being opened and helag examined. When it is possible to return the letters to the writers it will be done.

Notwithstanding this order, Santa Claus will of course receive some of his letters. All given for mailing purposes are not mailed, and in exchange of confidences many parents learn the contents of the communications, but the effect of the strict enforcement of department policy will cause many little hearts to ache which otherwise would be made happy.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as it would be if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of the public do not rest solely upon their makers' say-so of praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such great lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D. of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. J. H. of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coo, of New York; Dr. Barthelemy, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prostration, and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up excessive and weakening drains, cures known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other ailments peculiar to women. Bear in mind it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of women's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidently takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of, of no other medicine put up for women's ailments, and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honestly, by telling every patient using the same food exactly what she is taking?

Women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. J. W. Riddle, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a woman's special paper, covered copy and Dr. R. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Favorite cures constipation.

Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, issued today, shows the number of rural free delivery routes in the state of Kentucky to be 639. During the past year 1,234 petitions were referred to him from the state. Four hundred and fifty-one were adversely reported upon. Four routes were discontinued in the state. One hundred and forty cases are pending.

For Congo Free State. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, introduced a resolution in the senate today which, in effect, authorizes the president to take any steps which he may deem wise, in conjunction with the heads of the world powers, to bring about a better condition in the Congo Free State. The resolution is culmination of an agitation which has been growing stronger in this country for many years, and in which the president and the secretary of state have taken the position that they are powerless to meet unless especially urged by the congress.

Ship at Bailey.

What is considered to be a direct slap at Senator Bailey, of Texas, was made in the house today through the introduction of a resolution by Representative Randall, of Texas, which places a fine of $100 to $500 and imprisonment for from one month to one year upon members of congress who in any way accept office or receive money from corporations.

"Ever notice, at a woman's gathering, how guilty the other women look when another woman comes in?"

"That's right. Whether they've been talking about her or not."

SHOOTS HUSBAND
WHO ATTACKS HIM

heart of mine, but since she married I had not talked to her until recently. Clark did not like me because Mrs. Clark did. When I returned to Paducah a week ago I was informed by a friend that Mr. and Mrs. Clark were separated and I telephoned her. She informed me that she and her husband had separated and I called up again yesterday. Mrs. Clark said she was ill and I asked her if she desired to come to town. She replied in the affirmative. She requested me to call for her and securing a buggy I drove to her mother's residence, where she lived. I took my pistol because I was going into the country and felt I needed means of protection—not that I might have trouble with Mr. Clark.

"The gun was carried in the bottom of the buggy and when I reached Mrs. Schaeffer's residence I took it out and placed it in my pocket. This I did because some one might have stolen it, had I left it in the buggy.

"After entering the house early in the evening I sat down. I was there but a short time before Mr. Clark burst into the room. I was startled, and when he shot once I lost my head. He missed and began to beat me with a stick."

With this Winfrey displayed several lumps on his head and abrasions on his face.

"I retreated and fell from the porch as he struck me," Winfrey continued. "I scrambled to my feet and made for the gate. Clark cried halt and when I turned commanded me to jump the fence. Instead I dodged behind a tree and pulled my gun. It was the first time I had had a chance to use it. He had his pistol pointing at me and I fired once. The ball struck him in the breast, but I did not believe he was wounded. He did not fall, and fearing he would shoot me fired once again, this shot taking effect in the head."

"I shot in self-defense, and this will be my plea. I am sorry I had to do it, but I did not provoke the assault. Mrs. Clark informed me she and her husband had quit for good, and I did not think I was doing wrong in calling on her."

Comes Up Friday.

The coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Owen Clark, whose body now appears before us, find from the evidence that he came to his death in McCracken county on this December 11, 1906, as a result from a pistol shot or shots inflicted by A. L. Winfrey."

"L. D. DOLLAR,
U. F. BYER,
O. F. CHILES,
FRED BYER,
J. D. YANCEY,
GEO. RIEF."

Clark's body was prepared for burial and this morning taken to Hopkinsville. Mrs. Clark accompanied it and because of this fact no action was taken in the grand jury room today. All witnesses have been summoned to appear Friday morning before the grand jury.

Winfrey's Misfortunes.

Albert Winfrey is indeed an unfortunate young man. His faults are ordinary, but it seems that he was born under an unlucky star, and his friends are sorry that he is now to face the serious charge of murder.

Albert Winfrey's troubles began when he commenced to toddle about. Winfrey even in sports was unlucky. The ball teams he played with were always the "under dog," although Winfrey himself was an expert infielder.

Six years ago he was unfortunate enough to lose his purse in Fulton and was forced to steal a ride on the blind baggage of an Illinois Central train to Paducah. He was mistaken for another at the depot here by Patrolman William Rogers who shot him in the back thinking him a fugitive. Although six years have elapsed the bullet remains in his body and despite the repeated examinations by X-rays it can not be located.

Winfrey was arrested once for alleged robbery but it developed the accuser was mistaken and had identified the wrong man.

Winfrey got on an owl car six months ago and became involved in trouble with the conductor, who swore out a warrant. He was fined $5.

Last night to cap the climax Winfrey went to see an old sweetheart and was forced to kill her husband from whom she had separated.

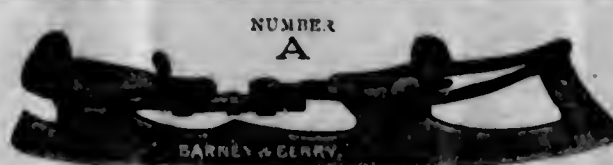

Winfrey even was unfortunate in domestic life, having separated in February, 1905, from his wife.

WHISKY FED TO DYING FATHER.

Sensational Charge in $1,000,000 Will Case at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Dec. 12.—Caroline J. Peper, who was on the stand today in the suit to break the $1,000,000 will of Christian Peper, tobaccoist and street railway magnate, it is said, will testify that she and other witnesses looked over the ransom and saw her brother Frederick giving his father whisky against the wishes of the family physician in order to keep the dying millionaire from making any statements to the other children. Frederick C. Peper, who is president of the Peper Tobacco company, and an executor of the will, is charged by the other children with conspiring with Christian Cornelius, the company's secretary and treasurer, who was raised by their father, to "bulldoze" the father into making a will giving Cornelius an equal share in the estate.
